SAE members compete in Daytona AHRMA event

SAE members and Ohio State University graduates (from right to left) Leah Bober, Wes Orloff, and Ed Milich competed in the American Historic Racing Motorcycle Association (AHRMA) Vintage Racing Series event March 6-7, 2006, at Daytona International Speedway. Bober, a Powertrain Development Engineer with Harley Davidson, distinguished herself as one of only three female riders on the Daytona grid. Orloff, a Senior Calibration and Performance Engineer with Harley Davidson's Middleweight Thermodynamics Group, won a second-place trophy in Battle of the Twins Formula 2 on a 1999 Buell X1 Lightning, in which he was clocked at more than 150 mph (241 km/h). Orloff also won two third-place awards in Sportsman 500. Milich, a Senior R&D Engineer with Measurement Analysis Corp., won two first-place trophies in Vintage Superbike Middleweight on a 650cc 1980 Ducati and was clocked at 129 mph (208 km/h) on the front straight.
